

Program Standards and Matrix
INITIAL PROGRAMS IN ART EDUCATION

ND ESPB Standards
02005.1 The program requires the study, understanding and application of media techniques and processes. The program uses a variety of performance assessments of candidates' understanding and ability to apply that knowledge. 02005.2 The program requires the study and experiences to develop the ability to interpret art through application of design theory, responses and intentions. The program uses a variety of performance assessments of candidates' understanding and ability to apply that knowledge. 02005.3 The program requires the study of the arts in relation to history and cultures with its contribution to the individual and society. The program uses a variety of performance assessments of candidates' understanding and ability to apply that knowledge. 02005.4 The program requires the study of characteristics and merits of one's own artwork and the artwork of others. The program uses a variety of performance assessments of candidates' understanding and ability to apply that knowledge.

02005.5 The program requires the study of cross curriculum development within art education. The program uses a variety of performance assessments of candidates' understanding and ability to apply that knowledge.

02005.6 The program requires the study of methods of teaching art including Elementary, Middle and Secondary. The program uses a variety of performance assessments of candidates' understanding and ability to apply that knowledge.

02005.7 The program requires the study of current, appropriate instructional technologies. The program uses a variety of performance assessments of candidates' understanding and ability to apply that knowledge.